

Brian Roth

Brian is a Sales Professional with experience in the travel, media and sport's industries. Brian is the Regional Director of Sales for United, managing a team responsible for airline passenger sales in the Pacific Northwest. He has been with United since 1997. He has worked across the Western United States covering channels from corporate travel management to sports charters and scheduling seasonal ski markets.

Brian and his family are fairly new to Seattle, relocating here, after 18 years in Colorado. Prior to joining United, Brian spent 5 seasons with the Colorado Rockies Baseball Team in Sales and Operations roles, starting with the Inaugural '93 season, when the expansion Rockies set the all-time attendance record.

Brian lives in Seattle area with his wife Jill and 2 children. Brian is an avid sports fan, attempts to ski and golf when possible, and enjoys exploring the Pacific Northwest.