

Bruce Amundson
Director – Company Communications
Weyerhaeuser Company

Education:

Amundson received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from Washington State University in 1975 and a EMBA from the University of Washington in 1988.

Business Background:

Amundson joined Weyerhaeuser in June of 1997 where he currently is responsible for all external and internal communications. This includes financial communications such as earnings and annual reports; media relations; the company's inter- and intranet sites; executive communications and employee publications.

Prior to joining Weyerhaeuser, Amundson spent 17 years at U S WEST – now QWEST. During his career at U S WEST, he provided communications and marketing support to a wide range of the company's operations including public policy, the wireless and cable operations, international ventures and the company's investor relations department. He also was responsible for local corporate sponsorship opportunities at numerous sporting events including the NCAA Final Four, Chris Evert-Martina Navratilova exhibition match and Seattle Seafair.

Earlier in his career, Amundson was a sports writer for the now-defunct Journal-American where he covered numerous sports such as Husky football (including the UW-Michigan 1978 Rose Bowl game), World Team Tennis and Virginia Slims tournaments.
