

Robert Derrick
Director of Economic Development
City of Bellevue

Robert Derrick's experience includes work as an attorney, public administrator, consultant, land developer and urban planner. Bob has worked at Bernard Development Company, Huntington Associates and Derrick Consulting. In the public sector, he has worked at Redmond, Bellevue, King County, Snohomish County and presently is the Director of Economic Development for the City of Bellevue. Bob holds degrees from Wittenberg University, The George Washington University and Harvard University. He is a past or current board member of Common Ground, Center For Ethical Leadership, Cascade Land Conservancy, Gage Academy of Art and the Discovery Park Advisory Council. While Bob grew up in the mid-west, he has lived in Seattle for over thirty years. He is married and has two grown children and a cat.